Cox files as write-in candidate

School Board member Floyd Burton is no longer running unopposed in the upcoming election—Rhonda Cox, of Columbia, has filed to be a write-in candidate for District 4.

Cox said various people throughout the community encouraged her to run for the District 4 school board seat. Ultimately, she decided to run because she is concerned about the students in Adair

Coaches, teachers, booster club parents and members of the ag community showed up for the school board meeting last week to voice their concerns regarding issues in the school district.

Crowd attends school board meeting to discuss travel costs, ag program

Educators, athletic coaches and booster club parents are all concerned about the future of extracurricular activities in the Adair County school district.

At the regular school board meeting last week, Sheila Willis, track coach at ACHS, said there is speculation that travel costs could increase as much as $3 a mile.

Willis, whose team doesn't have any track meets locally because they do not have the facilities, was concerned about the future of the track program. She said the track team is only allotted $1,000 to cover travel costs when one meet could range more than $800.

"It will wipe out my team," Willis said. "I just don't want to lose our team."

Raising transportation costs on extracurricular groups hasn't been an issue so far this year, Superintendent Alan Reed said. They don't have any plans to change the cost at this point, he continued.

The cost per mile is the same as last year at $1.75, plus a $12.40 an hour fee

Turner possibly lives out of district

Officials uncertain of school district boundaries

School board member Rebecca Turner, who was elected in 2010, moved last January and appears to be living outside the boundaries of the district for which she was elected.

Turner was elected as a representative of District 1 when she was living on Breeding Loop. Turner now lives in Bridgeport Circle, which appears to be in District 2.

The Community Voice went to Turner's residence on Tuesday at Bridgeport Circle and Turner said she isn't sure if she has moved out of her district. She assumed someone would tell her if she had, she told the Voice.

When contacted, Superintendent Alan Reed said he had not been officially informed on whether or not she had moved out of District 1.

"We've heard the rumors," Reed said. "But today was the first confirmation that there might be something to it."

Turner said she informed former Superintendent Darrell Treece of the address change earlier this year and has been receiving her school board packets every month at her

4-H and FFA students taught various classes to students at Adair County Elementary School last week in support of National Farm Safety and Health Week.

4-H, FFA students speak on farm safety

Adair County 4-H and FFA students conducted a farm safety program for students in kindergarten through second grade at ACES last week.

National Farm Safety and Health Week was Sept. 16-22. The program was held at the Adair County FFA shop and livestock facilities. Senior FFA officers and other organizations including the Corps of Engineers, Soil Conservation Service, 4-H council, and Red Barn Vet Clinic offered a rotation of educational and interactive safety demonstrations.

FFA and 4-H hosted a larger scale farm safety program for all sixth graders yesterday in the county at the Adair County Fairgrounds. The FFA and 4-H would like to thank Progressive Farmer Magazine and the Adair County Farm Bureau and all other participating organizations for helping sponsor these events.

Homeowner pulls gun after home invasion

The Adair County Sheriff's Department is investigating a possible armed robbery at a country store and a home invasion by two masked males.

Adair County 911 dispatch received a call Monday at 5:08 a.m. that someone had forcibly entered a residence on Rose Lane by breaking the door frame.

Sheriff deputy B.J. Bray responded to the scene where the homeowner reported that the two males entered his residence and he confronted them with a firearm before they fled on foot.

A white Scion TC was seen in the area a few minutes after the incident. The two white males were described as being 5'8" slender, and wearing ski masks and jeans.

Deputy Aaron Rainwater is now investigating the case. Anyone with information relating to the incident is urged to contact the sheriff's department at 384-2776.

The sheriff's department is also investigating a robbery that

Clark said it started out as 20 people but it blossomed from there and more than 100 people showed up this past Friday night.

"It was nice," Clark said. "They were thrilled. Those were the happiest group of people I have ever seen in my life. It was their night to shine."

Clark got donations from many businesses and people in the Adair and Taylor communities. The Davenport Center was decorated from floor to ceiling, Julia's Flower Garden the Flowers N' Things donated flowers while Cody Withers manned the music for the event.

"This was the most fulfilling thing I have done...seeing that many people happy," Clark said.

Becky stayed out on the dance floor all night long. Becky's favorite song of the night was "Footloose."

"I loved it," Becky said.

"She is still laughing and smiling about it," Clark said.

Clark said the night wouldn't have been possible if it were not for the caregivers who brought everyone to the dance and the businesses, which donated funds and items for the event.

She said there are no guarantees, but hopes to be able to hold the dance again next year.

THANK YOU TO COMMUNITY

Clark wanted to thank all of the people who donated funds and time to the cause including Joyce Coomer, Printing Creations, for designing and printing our flyers on a moments notice. Many businesses and individuals donated money, time and supplies for the dance: Carol Thomas, Stotts Construction, Don Franklin Ford, Stotts-Phelps-McQueary Funeral Home, Grissom-Martin Funeral Home, Wilkerson Auto (Ken and Rob), OK County Cooking, Community Medical Services, United Citizens Bank, Ron and Brenda's Transportation, Community Trust Bank, A-1 Transportation, Harrison Moss, Ivan Greer, Dennis Brown, Julia's Flower Garden, Sheila Blair, Dennis and Lisa Loy, Ann Melton, Brenda Dulworth, Michelle Powell and Flowers 'N Things which have always been so supportive of Becky.

Clark said without Trinity United Methodist Church allowing the use the Wm. Davenport building the dream for these individuals would have been only that, a dream. She especially wanted to thank Julie Hatcher, Emily Overstreet, Wanda Hatcher, Breanna Hatcher, Christina Breeding, Tina Young and Lesha Breeding who worked endlessly keeping the food flowing the entire evening. Also, Stacy Hatcher-Wilson, for supplying the serving dishes and all she does for others in the community. Susan Perkinson worked and stayed late decorating. Cody Withers and Erin Hill provided all the lighting and music for the night making this a real evening in paradise. Ray Rowe took countless pictures, which will be forever cherished.

Lastly, Clark wanted to thank her husband, Dale, who she said is always there supporting Becky and her friends in their dreams.

County.

"I know our students are just as capable as the next county's students," Cox said. "Something has to be done to improve those scores."

Many members of the community have voiced their concerns about a recent drop in test scores in the school district.

"I care a lot about the kids in Adair County," Cox said. "They are our future.

Cox said if elected she hopes that everyone could work together to find solutions for important issues that are affecting the school district. Her ultimate goal is to do what is in the best interest of the students in Adair County, she said.

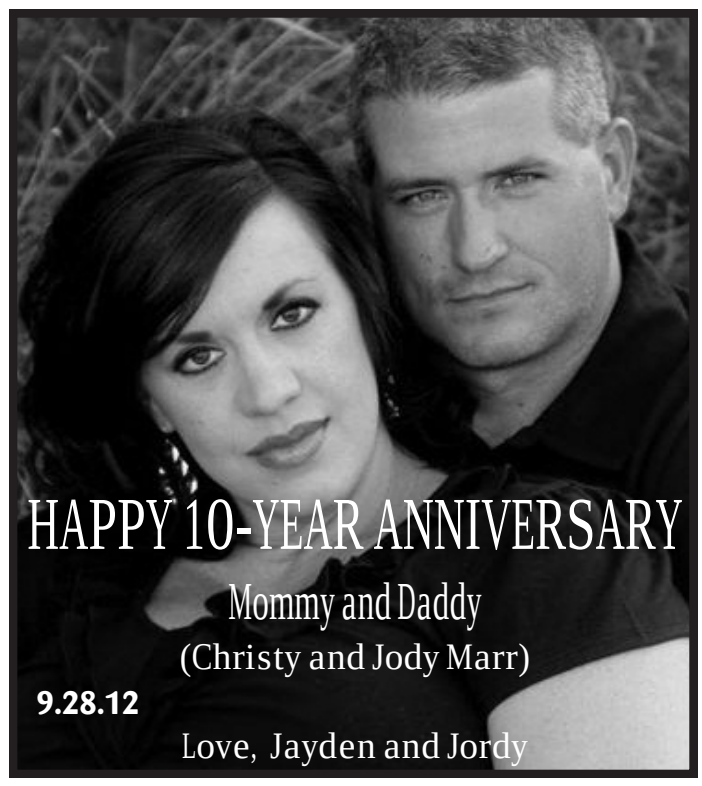

She has one son, John Cox, 24, of Columbia, with her husband Gary of 30 years. She has been employed at the Bank of Columbia for 35 years.

In order to vote for Cox, voters have to write her name in for school board "District 4." Voters would have to write in "Rhonda Cox" on the ballot. Her name has to be written correctly in order for the vote to count.

Cox is the second member of the community to file as a write-in candidate for the school board election. Bill Steele, of Columbia, filed last week for District 5, which is currently represented by Mike Harris.

The District 2 school board seat is also up for election in November. Current school board member Walker will run against candidates Quinn Lasley and Charles Miller.

School groups are concerned about travel costs

for the bus driver.

Parents and booster club members such as Breanna Bolin are wondering exactly how the fees are determined and where the money goes.

Bolin presented figures to the board regarding different per mile rates from surrounding counties. Figures ranged from no transportation costs to more than $3.

Transportation Director David Jones said it varies across the state and each school district's budget is different.

One parent was concerned regarding the process the district goes through to obtain fuel and whether or not the district has a contract with one specific provider.

Jones said they do not contract out fuel because it is cheaper to buy fuel by bidding every load.

ACHS baseball coach Ryan McQueary said for one season of baseball his total transportation fees totaled $7,200. Out of that, $2,600 was paid for out of the budget and the rest fell on the booster club.

ACHS cheerleading coach Julie McQueary said the cheerleaders do not cheer at away games because of transportation costs. McQueary said if they decide to go to an away game, the money has to be raised, donated or in one instance each cheerleader paid $5 when the got onto the school bus to pay for the transportation costs.

Jones said the board budgeted $44,000 for transportation costs this school year.

Many parents and educators present at the meeting also inquired about having waivers for students whose parents choose to drive them separately to games, competitions or other extracurricular activities.

Jones said the Kentucky Department of Education has told him the district could do the waivers, but they wouldn't recommend it because of insurance issues.

"The KDE said 'We will have to testify that we told you the waiver wasn't worth the paper it was written on,'" Jones said.

Buses are a lot safer, he continued.

"Our kids deserve to ride in the safest form of transportation we can provide," Jones said.

While Reed said at this point the district doesn't plan to raise fees, those who attended the meeting asked for ways to prevent the increase in costs for the future and ways to help their current situation.

"What people are asking is 'Let's look at options to find a way to help," said ACHS football coach and assistant principal Travis Gay.

"We got our work cut out for us," said board member Joseph Payne. "As soon as you find out something is wrong, bring it up to us. It helps us. Any issue like this, let's get on it right away."

ADAIR AG ALLIANCE

Members of the ag community addressed the board and Adair Ag Alliance Chairman Greg Corbin said the group would pay the salary for a third ag teaching position for the rest of the year.

Board members told Corbin the responsibility lies on the high school SBDM council.

"It's illegal for the board to do anything," said board member Marsha Walker. "They said you do not mess with site based. If you try you are gone."

Walker said all the board does is give the SBDM councils an allocated number of funds to pay for teaching salaries, which is a set number of students per teacher ratio.

"It's based on a formula," Walker said.

Reed said there is a process the alliance has to go through before the school district can even apply for the grant. The group would have establish to itself as a charitable organization and write the stipulations for the funds they wish to donate in the form of a grant.

Reed said the board turns down grants regularly because a grant's restrictions and it is ultimately up to the SBDM council whether or not they want to apply for the grant.

Throughout budget cuts over the past three to four years, 30 teaching positions have been cut including 13 at Adair County High School, Reed said.

"I wish everyone would fight for the programs the way you have," Reed said.

Sammy Baker, former ag teacher, voiced his concern regarding the future of the program and the current state of the ag building.

"I hate to see it kicked aside," Baker said. "It builds their self-esteem and they become winners."

Baker said one of the problems regarding the ag department was the damages that occurred to the ag building.

"That went on for years and no one took responsibility," Baker said.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Reed has been doing walk-throughs of the school district to get acquainted with issues throughout the campus. He said everyone has been working on a "campus beautification" mission in order to make improvements throughout the district.

"We're out catching people doing good things," Reed said.

The school district is facing the possibility of a large budget cut come January, as federal funding could decrease anywhere from eight to ten percent.

"My biggest concern is the budget," Reed said. "It's a very scary situation."

Reed said the district would find out in January exactly how much the budget cuts would affect the district.

"You know where those cuts are going to be," Reed said. "It's going to be people."

Also, while 30 teaching positions have been eliminated throughout the district, there have been no raises for teachers in the past six years.

Reed gave a report on the current state of construction on the new elementary school.

Construction has been delayed some because of weather. Reed also announced that the Local Planning Committee will consider reconfiguring the schools, so they have also halted construction on portions of the new school.

Board members Mike Harris, Marsha Walker, Floyd Burton, Joseph Payne and Rebecca Turner were all present at the meeting.

The board meets on the third Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. at the central office.

Elect Bill Steele
School Board District 5
East Columbia – West Columbia – Ozark

☑ Bill Steele
Write In
Paid For By Candidate

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself to the voters in District 5. My name is Bill Steele and I am running for school board in East Columbia, West Columbia, and the Ozark areas of Adair County.

I am the son of Bill and Sharon Steele and I am the middle child of three brothers: my older brother Brian, who resides in West Virginia, and my younger brother Tommy, who lives in Columbia. My beautiful wife of eleven years, Sarah, is the daughter of Charles and Kathy Tarter, also of Columbia.

I have three sons, Bryce, 14, who is a freshman at Adair County High School, Treyton, 11, and Aaron, 9, who both attend the 6th and 4th grades respectively at Adair County Elementary School.

My father, mother, and Tommy, along with myself own and operate Kentucky Tie and Lumber Co. Inc.

Following graduation at Adair County High School in 1996, I went to work for my father and have been there ever since.

With much thought and consideration, I have decided to run as a write-in candidate in the upcoming Nov. 6 general election.

I will be running against Mike Harris. I respect my opponent and have the upmost adoration for his wife Laura. We just disagree on the way our school system should be run. Being born and raised in Columbia, I have always had a passion for moving this county forward.

Our school system is an integral part of bringing much needed industry to our small community. Education is the one thing that no matter what side of tracks you come from, so to speak, is promised to every child. But I would be lying if I said that our children are receiving the best education possible. Our test scores indicate otherwise! Due to ongoing budget cuts, I fear that our schools are only going to decline further if we do not sincerely place the emphasis on giving the students what they need to learn and giving the teachers what they need to teach.

As I have been visiting throughout the county, I have heard many concerns. There are many but the ones that continue to surface are our test scores, school taxes, our agricultural program, and the fees each extracurricular activity incurs from the school board each year.

I am a straight forward and honest man, so I will admit that I do not have an exact answer on how to correct our low test scores. I do know, however, where there is a will, there is a way. We have all heard that there is plenty of blame to go around. This is true, but in my line of work, someone has to be held accountable. If you see smoke and don't deal with it immediately, it will turn into a fire. This much is fact!

As a responsible adult, I do not believe throwing new money at an old problem is the solution to the situation we are facing in our school district or any situation for that matter. In my sixteen years of business I have learned a few things. The first thing you do when your payables are higher than your receivables is you revamp your budget.

If that doesn't work then you go through your budget again and cut out any excess remaining. After you have exhausted every hidden cost and if a short fall remains that will directly impact our children, then, not only as a concerned parent, but also as an elected official you hold a public meeting to plead your case. You do not however, add a tax that directly affects the food on the table of these same children without a meeting with the individuals that have elected you.

Adair County's largest industry without a doubt is agriculture. It brings more dollars into this community than all other entities combined. Many of our community leaders, past and present, are in one way or another connected to agriculture. From doctors, to bankers, and business owners to teachers, the agriculture department at our high school has helped to shape all our lives in one way or another. As with any class, it can be taken advantage of in a positive or negative way, but the reality is, if we, as citizens allow even one of these classes to be dissolved, it opens the door to abolishing the entire program.

There are many family farm operations that depend on the next generation to learn new skills to keep up with an ever changing industry. In this day and time, one cannot afford to fall behind the competition or in laymen's terms, you simply cannot get ahead if you are constantly playing catch up. I am committed to not only maintaining our current program, but to helping any child, male or female, to excel in a program that gives back to our community far more than it takes. These students are the future farmers of America!

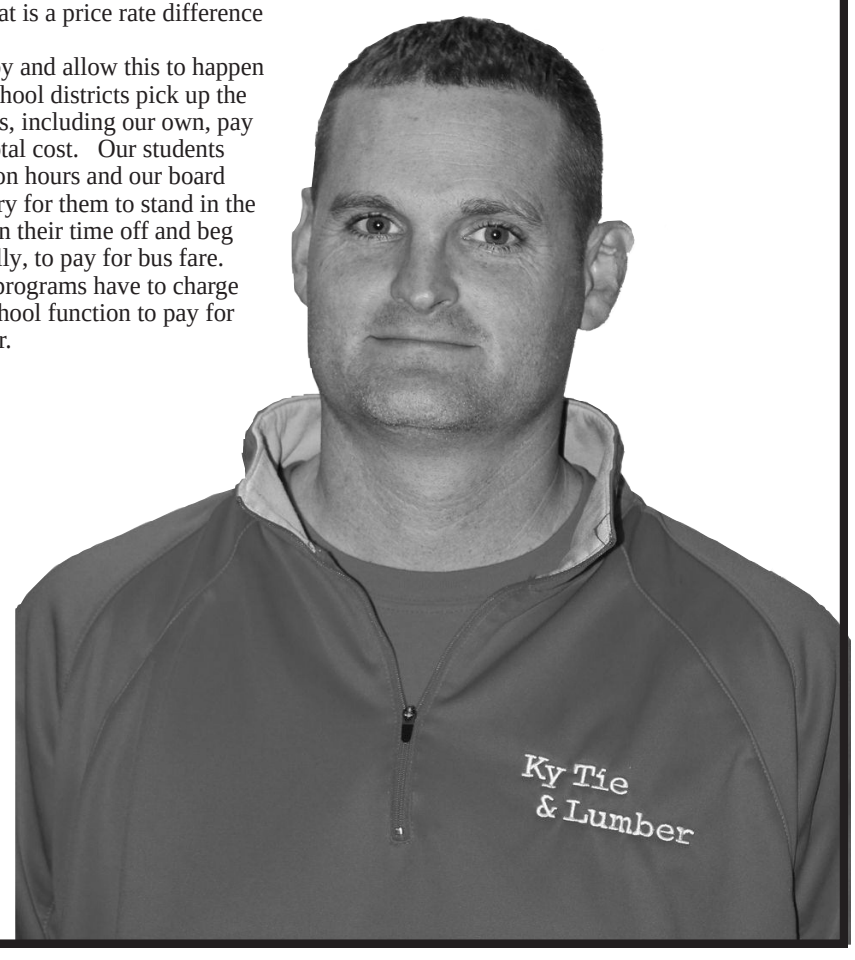

There has also been a lot of talk about the rates that each extracurricular activity incurs for the use of busses and drivers pay. Small groups which use smaller busses than the larger ones are charged the same rate. $2.40 of each hour a driver is paid goes for benefits. There are lots of qualified individuals who currently are unemployed that would love to make the regular rate of $10 per hour or maybe even less and our programs would not have to pick up the tab on the extra benefits. Each activity is currently paying $1.75 per mile round trip for the use of the busses or $3.50 a loaded mile as it is referred to as in the trucking industry.

As an owner of a fleet of trucks this is something that I can relate to. With trucks that get 3 mpg less and have 12 more tires than busses, the going rate in today's economy is $2.50 a loaded mile which includes the drivers pay. A 200 mile round trip with no waiting time for the driver currently costs each program around $400. That same trip in a semi would cost around $250. That is a price rate difference of $150.

How can we stand by and allow this to happen any longer? Some school districts pick up the entire tab while others, including our own, pay a percentage of the total cost. Our students practice for hours upon hours and our board still deems it necessary for them to stand in the middle of the street on their time off and beg for a donation, partially, to pay for bus fare. Some of the smaller programs have to charge the kids to go on a school function to pay for the fuel and the driver.

I am very proud to live in Adair County. A place where Sarah and I can raise our family, while being sheltered from the hustle and bustle that comes with big city life, but I do not feel that any child should be denied the opportunity of a first rate education. I very humbly ask for your support in the upcoming election and in return I will work diligently to ensure that the future of our children is not compromised.

Remember to write in Bill Steele in the write in box under school board District 5.

Keep the door open

I have been covering public education in Adair County for nearly three years.

I attend the school board meetings regularly. Usually the meetings do not last any more than an hour. However, when I walked out of the central office at 9:30 p.m. last Thursday, I couldn't have been happier to sit through a two and a half hour school board meeting.

The boardroom was full of educators, parents and students. People were standing outside of the doorways because there wasn't enough room for everyone to sit down.

Considering events that have occurred over the past two months, it appears as if the relationship between the public school system and the community is changing. I cannot predict if the recent changes will continue, but I am optimistic about the community's recent involvement.

Not only have members of the ag community voiced their concerns, but educators are also voicing their concerns about the large fees extracurricular activity groups incur when they travel.

In the past three years, I have never seen that many educators show up to a school board meeting to voice their concerns. It makes me optimistic about the future of the school district and I hope it continues.

One of the goals of a rural media outlet is to hope for a positive environment where public schools officials and educators are comfortable speaking to reporters or voicing their concerns without the fear of retribution.

I believe the recent involvement of the ag community has played an important role in breaking down the walls between the community and the local school district. The door has been opened; now it's up to the community and school district administration to keep it open.

Unfortunately, the school district will have a large obstacle to face at the beginning of the new year. The school district is facing an uncertain future where the budget is concerned. The federal contribution to the local school district is expected to be reduced by eight to ten percent in January.

All eyes will be on the new administration as the district deals with low test scores and large budget cuts. The big question the school district is currently faced with is how to improve test scores and prepare students for "Grade 13" while the budget gets smaller and smaller.

All eyes will be on the new administration as the district deals with low test scores and large budget cuts.

A recent study performed by The Bluegrass Institute stated that school districts across the state, such as LaRue County, have been performing successfully despite poverty levels and small budgets. The study said the successful schools have worked hard to make use of the resources they already have.

Over the next couple of months, it is important that the community continue its involvement in the school district and it is important for administration to continue to listen to their concerns.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Outrage is 'too little, too late'

Dear Editor,

Regarding the editorial from the National Newspaper Association, I agree wholeheartedly with the sentiments expressed in the article. However, the outrage expressed seems to be too little too late. The editorial seems particularly incensed that the government is picking winners and losers and the "little guys" are the big losers.

This Administration in Washington has made it a major priority to decide who can stay in business and who cannot. For the past three and a half years the majority of the media, including the print media, have ignored the implications of this policy and in many instances championed the efforts.

Welcome to the real world as we now live it. I am particularly struck by the parallel to the 1930 – 40 era as described by Pastor Martin Niemöller. To paraphrase his famous quote:

"First they came after the Bankers, and I didn't speak out because I wasn't a banker.

"Then they came for the Wall Street Brokers, and I didn't speak out because I wasn't a broker.

"Then they came for the Auto Manufacturers, and I didn't speak out because I wasn't an Auto Maker.

"Then they came for the Car Dealers, and I didn't speak out because I didn't own a dealership.

"And then they came for me, and there was no one left to speak for me."

DAV service office offers assistance

A Disable American Veterans service officer will be at the VFW Columbia Post 6097 on Monday, Oct. 1 to assist any veteran with any needs or problems they may have in regards to VA benefits.

Commander Joe Hare says the opportunity to have a service officer available is not an attempt to compete with the veterans representative now coming to Columbia. The Post began working on getting this service when there was no VA rep coming to Adair County following the retirement of Gary Jones.

The Post will continue to assist veterans as long as there is demand, and the DAV service office will be here monthly after the first of the year.

Adair County celebrates Farm Safety and Health Week

Nick Roy
Adair County Extension Agent for Agriculture and Natural Resources

Everyone in agriculture knows of someone whose life has been affected by a farm-related injury or death.

The statistics are sobering. Even more tragic is that most of these accidents could have been prevented if simple safety precautions had been followed. That's why DTN/ The Progressive Farmer magazine began a national crusade for farm safety in 1995.

At the heart of this effort is the Progressive Agriculture Safety Day program, a one-day hands-on workshop that teaches children and their parents to stay safe and healthy on the farm, ranch or at home. Each year, Progressive Agriculture Safety Days reach more than 95,000 children and adults across the country.

What is a Progressive Agriculture Safety Day?

Progressive Agriculture Safety Days are as fun as they are educational. These one-day events teach children safety and health lessons that can keep them and those around them safe and healthy on a farm, on a ranch or at home.

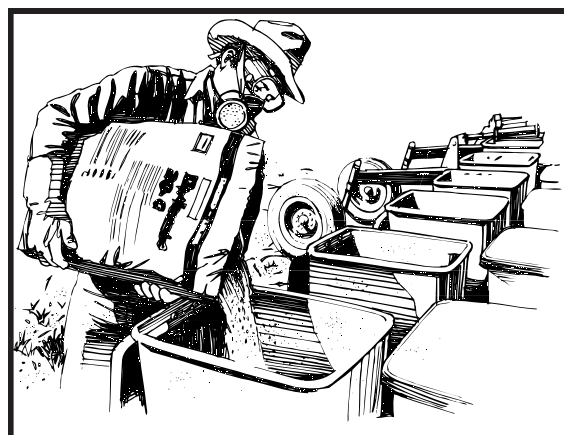

The program is designed to reach 8- to 13-year-olds. However, there are separate materials that can be used to reach 4- to 7-year-olds. After completing one Safety Day, coordinators are encouraged to include adults whenever possible.

The adults can reinforce what the children learn, and take steps to further protect the children at home. Safety Days can be conducted for specific schools, school classes or they can be open to the entire community.

This year's two Progressive Agriculture Safety Days were sponsored nationally by Bunge, Crop Production Services, Agrium, Farm Credit, John Deere, Monsanto, The Mosaic Company Foundation, Pioneer, Toyota, CHS, and Novus International, Inc.

Locally the Safety Days were sponsored by the Adair County 4-H Council, Inc., Adair County Cooperative Extension Service, Adair County Elementary Family Resource Center, Adair County FFA, Adair County School System, Adair County Ambulance Service,

Indians have five-game winning streak

The Adair County Indian football team continued its winning ways this past Friday night with a 49-31 win over the Bethlehem Eagles. The victory marked Adair's second five-game winning streak since 1993.

Although the Indians won by 18, the game was closer than the final score indicated. The Indians were only up at the half by a score of 27-25.

The back-and-forth first half was full of several highlight plays by both teams, including an onside kick returned for a touchdown by Adair's junior Gerard Smith and a short, desperation toss from Bethlehem quarterback Conner Ballard to fullback Frederick Brady that resulted in a long gain for the Eagles.

In the second half, however, the Indians proved to be too powerful, outscoring the Eagles 22-6.

On offense, Adair was led by senior running back Derek Grant, who rushed for 223 yards and four touchdowns on 29 carries. Grant also contributed in the passing game 23 yards and a touchdown on four catches.

Junior quarterback Jake Hixson also had a big night offensively, completing 9 of his 16 passes for 132 yards and two touchdowns and adding 38 yards on the ground. Hixson's favorite target on the night was senior Emory Bishop, who hauled in four passes for 98 yards and a touchdown.

On defense, the Indians added to their season interception total with a pick by Grant. Adair has now picked off five passes in six games.

With the win, Adair is now 5-1 on the season with only four games remaining. Their next game, against the 5-1 Monroe County Falcons, will be at home tomorrow night at 7 p.m.

CHAPTER THREE

"May I have another apple?" I asked Mom as we traveled down the Mountain Parkway.

"You've eaten two, son," Mom said. "I'm afraid more will hurt your belly."

"The oatmeal and grapefruit were good, but they aren't sticking to my ribs like a bacon-egg biscuit does," I replied.

"My oatmeal was yummy," Chloe said, "especially topped with honey. Besides, remember what Doc said about co-letter-straw?"

"It's pronounced ko-LES-tu-rawl, sweetie" Mom said as she and Dad smiled.

"You're right, Chloe," I answered, thankful my sister cared about our health – and thankful Doc said I didn't have to give up stuff for the rest of my life. I imagined sopping up my egg with Mom's homemade biscuits when I saw "Exit 33: Slade/Beattyville." Dad took the exit ramp and pulled into the service station at 7:58 a.m. We spotted a canary yellow four-door pickup truck in the parking lot.

"Sam must be here!" I announced, unbuckling my seat belt. Instead of Sam, a pretty girl about 20 years old appeared.

"You must be Woody," the girl said.

"Yes, ma'am?" I answered, waiting for the rest of my family. "Where's Sam?"

"You're looking at her," she said with a gorgeous smile. "Sam is short for Samantha. And since you're wondering, I'm as strong as any man," she said, winking at me. "Hop in your car and follow me."

"Hey, gang," Sam said in a chipper voice when we arrived at our destination. "Welcome to Red River Gorge. Most of the gorge is located inside Daniel Boone National Forest and has been designated a National Natural Landmark."

"It's beautiful, even though we're in the middle of nowhere," I said, trying to decide where we were.

"The gorge can be split into two different sections," Sam told us, trying to help us get our bearings. "The upper section starts to the north of the town of Campton and finishes at the county line of Wolfe and Menifee counties. The lower section begins at the Wolfe-Menifee county line and goes almost to Indian Creek in Powell County. The gorge features high sandstone cliffs, rock shelters, waterfalls and natural bridges. One of the world's top rock-climbing destinations, the gorge has more than 100 natural sandstone arches – more than any other place except the Rocky Mountains."

"We've never climbed rocks before," Chloe informed Sam.

"We're not going to be rock-climbing today, sweetheart. We're going to zip-line!"

I didn't know what zipper lining was, but Mom's and Dad's eyes became very large.

"Everyone needs to wear these harnesses, helmets and gloves – and empty all of your pockets. Once you're ready I'll explain everything," Sam said.

We obeyed Sam's orders. "Uh, Miss Sam, my equipment's broken," I told her. "There aren't any zippers on here."

Sam smiled, shook her head and explained.

"A zip line was originally used as a method of transportation where other methods are not practical, but today it is also used for recreation. Zip lines are created by stringing a strong cable between two points – in this case trees – and attaching a pulley to the cable. To use the zip line, we will attach you to the pulley and launch you across to the other side. Since you're newbies, we are going to put you on the line that is only 330 feet across. Once we launch you, you'll pick up speed and will travel around 50 miles an hour before you stop. Once you see the other tree, start tapping the line with your glove. That's your brake and will make you stop," Sam explained, as if she was telling us how to ride a tricycle. "Any questions?" she asked.

"How many zip lines are in Kentucky?" Dad asked.

"Currently there are at least six places in the state to zip," Sam said, "but we're adding new places all the time."

"How is this exercise?" Chloe asked.

"It strengthens our muscles and gets the adrenaline pumping," Sam explained. "Besides, we don't want to start with strenuous activities since you aren't in shape."

I had a more important question.

"Uh, how high are we?"

"About 250 feet over the gorge," Sam said as my tummy did somersaults.

With that, Sam attached our family to the pulleys, and before I knew it I was soaring across the gorge to the other side. Even though it was fast, I was still aware of my major mistake.

Stay tuned next week for chapter 4.

A KENTUCKY ADVENTURE

CHAPTER THREE ACTIVITIES

Unscramble the words to form a new word. Copy the letters in the numbered cells to the cell below with the same number to solve the puzzle. All of the words appear in Chapter 3.

WHAT SONG DID WOODY SING AS HE SOARED OVER THE GORGE?

QUESTIONS

1. In this chapter Woody learns the Red River Gorge has 100 natural sandstone arches – more than anywhere other than the Rocky Mountains. Using the internet, research to see how many natural sandstone arches the Rockies have.

2. Use the computer. Watch a cool video about Ziplining in Kentucky. Cut and paste this link: http://www.kentuckytourism.com/photos_videos/videos.aspx?video=22

3. Open up your local newspaper. Are there any articles using the word MOUNTAIN? If you find one try this activity:

Draw your hand on a sheet of paper with fingers wide open. Write the Headline in capital letters in the "palm." Write the 5 W's (who, what, when, where and why/how) on the five "fingers." List at least 5 other details down the "wrist." On a separate sheet of paper write a one-paragraph summary of the article.

4. While you have your newspaper open, search the Classifieds and see if you can find pick-up trucks for sale. If there are at least two different trucks, what is the difference in price? (If there are more than two, figure the price difference between the highest and the lowest). Sam the trainer drove a canary yellow pick-up. Did you find one for sale?

5. The pups learned most of the gorge is located inside the Daniel Boone National Forest. Research the Daniel Boone National Forest. How many counties are included in the forest? Name at least 4 of those counties.

6. Sam told the family there are 6 places in Kentucky to zipline. Go to www.getoutky.com and find the other places the pups could zipline. Email Woody at woody@thewoodybooks.com and let him know other places he could zip.

7. Don't forget to cut out Chapter 3 and paste it in your scrapbook. If you don't have a scrapbook it's not too late to request one! Email allison@accvonline.com.

8. Look at the illustration in today's chapter. Write a paragraph about what you see. Read your paragraph aloud to someone.

9. Hear Woody read every Unleashed chapter. Just visit Woody's online doghouse at www.thewoodybooks.com or go to www.kypress.com.

Westlake CEO stays positive despite busy first month

Westlake CEO Dave Rasmussen has been on the job for 30 days and has already experienced some hills and valleys.

Since he came on board, the group operating the emergency room gave notice it is pulling out, the Joint Commission showed up to inspect the facilities, and the hospital learned it is being sued by a former management firm.

Rasmussen, in his easy-going manner that has helped alleviate some anxiety during a tense time for hospital employees, described his first month at Westlake as "fun."

Rasmussen gave a report during the regularly monthly meeting of the hospital district board of directors Tuesday. He said much of his time has been spent working out arrangements for the emergency room operations. The board approved a plan to contract with four doctors who currently work in the ER as part of the outgoing group, NES. In addition, Westlake will work with the group Inspire, which operated the ER in the past, to fill in the gaps and develop a long-term plan.

The board heard from Monica Thomas, director of quality and risk management, who reported on the visit from the Joint Commission.

While the hospital received certification, the Joint Commission pointed out several improvements that need to be addressed. A key concern is the lack of security, Thomas said. In addition, inspectors pointed out a humidity issue in the emergency room, lack of ventilation testing in key areas and several training and leadership issues.

Several areas of concern will require a financial investment to make improvements, such as the need to install four doors with keypads. Prices are being gathered for the needed repairs and will be presented at a later date.

PATIENTS GIVE HOSPITAL RAVE REVIEWS

Thomas also provided a summary of performance data that is publicly available about Westlake and other hospitals.

The data is available for more than 4,000 Medicare certified hospitals across the country.

Westlake ranked number one in the state in some areas and fared well compared to hospitals across the nation on measures determined by patients who were surveyed after a hospital visit.

Westlake ranked number one in Kentucky and number five in the nation on the percent of patients who reported that nurses always communicate well. It ranked one in Kentucky and third in the nation on the percent of patients who reported that doctors always communicated well.

The hospital also ranked number one in the state on eight other questions that ranged from the speed in which patients were helped to the cleanliness of bathrooms.

"Our hospital is a shining star when it comes to hospital care satisfaction," Thomas said.

FUNDRAISING CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Board member Craig Pyles said he believes a fundraising campaign for the hospital would be successful in the community. A petition to recall a proposed tax succeeded to at least delay tax revenue until 2015, removing $260,000 from the hospital's budget.

"We're in a bind right now; we need cash," he said.

Board members agreed to encourage donations and committed donations of up to $500 themselves. Donations can be sent to Westlake at P. O. Box 1269, Columbia, Ky. 42728. Checks should be earmarked as "donation."

FINANCIAL REPORT

CFO Tammy Curry gave a financial report for July, noting that reports are behind because of a computer conversion.

The hospital district showed a net income in the report but Curry said once computer issues are addressed the month would probably break even.

Human Resources director Barry Corbin reported that a total of 41 fulltime equivalent positions have been reduced with recent layouts and resignations.

It will take another month before the change is reflected in the hospital district's payroll because of vacations, he said.

SPECTRUM FILES LAWSUIT

The board went into a 10-minute executive session then returned to an open meeting and approved retaining Lebanon attorney Elmer George in a civil lawsuit. Spectrum Health Partners, which managed the hospital for a year and a half and orchestrated a failed attempt to sell the hospital, is suing the hospital district for breach of contract.

All board members were present at Tuesday's meeting. They are Craig Pyles, Richard Grant, Bruce White and chairman Jim Evans.

Hwy. 206 Grocery and Grill robbed

occurred on Thursday night.

Adair County 911 dispatch received a call on Thursday, Sept. 20 at 7:24 p.m. that Hwy. 206 Grocery and Grill had been robbed. Deputy Rainwater and a Kentucky State Police Trooper Casey Wethington responded to the scene. It was reported that two white males had entered the business.

One of the males apparently pointed an unknown weapon from under his shirt at the store employee demanding money. A witness was able to identify the getaway vehicle as a four-door white Chevrolet SUV.

The vehicle was found a short time later on Hwy. 127 in Casey County occupied by David Allen Haley, 32, of Campbellsville.

The sheriff's department reported that Haley identified himself as Danny Wayne Haley and was later charged for giving a false name to police.

Deputy Rainwater arrested Haley and charged him with robbery, 1st degree, two counts of terroristic threatening, 1st degree, giving a false name to police and identity theft of another person. He was lodged in Adair County Regional Jail on $100,000 cash bond. Charges against the other male are pending.

METH CHARGES

The Columbia Police Department executed search warrants at two residents on Waterworks Street on Sunday, Sept. 23 at 9 a.m.

Search warrants were issued at 105 Waterworks St. and 115 Waterworks St. Officers located a one-step meth lab, the drug methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

CPD arrested four people on drug charges:

• Karen Judd, 38, of Columbia, possession of a controlled substance—methamphetamine, 1st degree and possession of drug paraphernalia;

• Mark Mowers, 37, of Burkesville, possession of a controlled substance—methamphetamine, 1st degree and possession of drug paraphernalia;

• Mary Ann Hoover, 22, of Columbia, possession of a controlled substance—methamphetamine, 1st degree and possession of drug paraphernalia;

• Ryan D. McQueary, 32, of Russell Springs, possession of a controlled substance – meth, 1st degree and possession of drug paraphernalia.

All were lodged in Adair County Regional Jail. The case is still under investigation by CPD and more charges are expected.

current address. She did not broach the topic of the location of her new residence with Treece or speculate on what district it is in, she merely gave a change of address, she said.

If a resident who lives at Bridgeport Circle registers to vote, he or she is registered to vote in District 2, according to County Clerk Sheila Blair. School board member Marsha Walker currently represents District 2.

Blair said she couldn't confirm the district boundaries 100 percent because Bridgeport Circle isn't identified on her map. Bridgeport Circle connects to the Hwy. 55 bypass, which was constructed in late 2008.

Turner said she is still in contact with her constituents in District 1 despite the move.

Lisa Gross, of the Kentucky Department of Education, said it is up to the board member to report a move and resign if he or she is no longer in the district in which he or she is elected.

"If it is too late to get on the ballot for an election, the education commissioner would appoint someone," Gross said.

Superintendent Reed said he would research the issue and then determine what the next step would be.

Adair County celebrates Farm Safety and Health Week

Columbia/Adair County Fire Department, John Deere, Redbarn Vet. Clinic, Soil Conservation Service, Adair County EMS, Adair County FSA, Adair County Jaycees, US Army Corps of Engineers-Green River Lake, Adair County Farm Bureau and many local volunteers.

This is the 12th Progressive Agriculture Safety Day that has been in Adair County. Before that, there were five Safety Days sponsored locally by many of the same groups. One Safety Day was held at the Adair County FFA barn for the K-2nd graders at Adair County Elementary school. There were over 200 youth who participated in Tractor Safety, ATV Safety, and Water Safety.

The Safety Day for 6th graders was held on Wednesday, Sept. 26 at the Adair County Fairgrounds. There were over 200 sixth graders that participated in nine different Safety Booths. Booths for the 6th graders were: Fire, Tractor, ATV, Lawn, First Aid, Earth Quake, Meth, and Livestock. Youth spent the day rotating through each of the booths to learn valuable safety information. Thanks to everyone who helps make this important safety program possible.

FFA president Jana Hopkins spoke to students at Adair County Elementary School about farm safety.
